

Hop movie review

By: Mallory Erickson

The movie Hop is a very cute Easter movie that came out March 27, 2011. It is a fiction movie, but they make it look as realistic as possible. I would say it's definitely worth watching especially around Easter time, because the movie is based on the Easter holiday. The overall reviews I read says 85% of people liked this movie and it has 4.2 stars out of 5. It is also a family/comedy movie and very kid friendly. I really enjoyed this movie because it's not that long of a movie and it makes me smile because it's funny and fun to watch. The characters in this movie are funny too and a joy to see, because bunnies can't actually talk. A lot of people rewatch this movie everytime Easter comes around. The movie is so colorful and full of life and the songs are fun to listen too.
