

Travel Back In Time

By: Chloe Lohr

The Vintage Fest is coming to Cleveland, Ohio, January 28 at the I-X Center. You might be wondering what Vintage Fest is and what it includes. Well, the Vintage Fest is taking a step back into the 80's, 90's, and Y2K era. This event has over forty different vendors. At these vendors you will find mostly clothing, but you may also find some home decor, records, and much more. There is also an arcade with some throwback games where you can challenge your friends and family to play. You can even come dressed up in your best vintage outfit and take pictures. There is going to be a vinyl DJ there to play some good throwback tunes from the 80's and 90's. This event welcomes anyone who's interested. Normal entry to the event is from 10a.m.- 5p.m., so there is a lot of time to walk around and explore every vendor. If you buy early bird tickets the entry time is 8:30 a.m., so you can be one of the first ones in the Vintage Fest. Early bird tickets cost $25. General admission tickets cost $8 in advance and $12 at the event. All children under 12 are free. The Vintage Fest is a great event to take your friends and family to. There is something for everyone at this great event!
